sinus Body

Digitalisation and civilisation are harming our bodies and minds

This can cause problems.

Many people suffer from a lack of concentration and fatigue, lack energy, complain of various physical ailments, and are sleeping poorly. Does that describe you, too? Then we would like to ask you the following questions:

- Do you spend a lot of time indoors?
- Do you travel regularly by car or public transport?
- Do you use a mobile, WiFi, TV, etc.?
- Is your workplace in an office, a workshop, a shop, or another building?
- Is your eating unhealthy from time to time?
- Should you be spending more time outside and having fun or relaxing?

An unhealthy lifestyle as well as staying away from the natural geomagnetic field are causing a lot of problems. In particular, the magnetic field deficiency syndrome (MFDS) triggers quite a lot of the physical and psychological problems that come with life in these modern times!

MFDS is caused by too little time in nature (a minimum of 2-3 hours would be ideal), by staying inside (concrete is particularly absorbent), by staying in vehicles (cars, buses, trains, etc. are like Faraday cages), the influence of modern communication technologies (electro-smog, 5G, WiFi, digitalisation in general, and much more), as well as the natural decline of the geomagnetic field.

Unfortunately, you are losing a lot of energy due to these influences!

The emergence of magnetic field deficiency syndrome (MFDS, Nakagawa) reflects the impact of declines in the geomagnetic field and modern influences on body and mind.

The solution?

Wear the geomagnetic field directly on your body and recharge your vitality!

There has been life on Earth for more than 5 billion years. Human beings have their origins in the Earth's energy. The pulsed geomagnetic field sets our biorhythms and recharges our energy. Despite all our technology, we are still "biological beings".

However, in recent decades, technical developments are overtaking us at a rapid pace. Digitalisation, mobile phones (e.g. 5G), WiFi, satellite signals, electric vehicles, and much more are only just a small selection of potential sources of interference for the human electromagnetic field.

The speed of these new stresses is so high that the human body and mind don't have enough time to adapt to all the innovations.

To rehabilitate itself, the human body needs the pulsed geomagnetic field more than ever. The Earth, however, is currently losing power because the geomagnetic field has lost about 50% of its intensity over the last 500 years.

The causes of magnetic field deficiency syndrome are:

- the clear decline in the intensity of the geomagnetic field
- people spending too much time inside, living in cities, travelling in vehicles, etc.
- the new influences from the digital revolution such as electrosmog disrupting the body's biological, electromagnetic field

Recharging energy

Our body's cells need geomagnetic field energy, supplied in a natural sine wave (natural electricity) and at the ideal cell frequency (the geomagnetic frequency = the Schumann frequency).

With a finely dosed supply of the pulsed geomagnetic field, you can restore your vitality, ability to regenerate, and strengthen your resilience!

Through optimal nutrition, a lot of exercise (2-3 hours a day outside), exposure to daylight and fresh air, and switching between periods of rest and activity, we can get closer to this goal. For all those whose lives seem too busy for this due to work, hobbies, family, school, travel, and much more, we have developed the sinus Body.

The sinus Body is a pulsed magnetic field that you can wear that will supply the body's own cells with the 8 hertz frequency of the Earth (known as the Schumann frequency).

This will eliminate magnetic field deficiency syndrome. In addition, regulation frequencies can help against the stresses of electrosmog. A solution that is one-of-a-kind!

Instructions for use:

The sinus Body may be worn by anyone at any age. Nevertheless, one should note any restrictions when it comes to applying a pulsed magnetic field system (including the sinus Body). For example, users of cardiac pacemakers, insulin pumps, etc. may face restrictions (see the instructions or ask your consultant).

Inside the case is a one-of-a-kind electronic concept with magnetic coils, sophisticated control electronics, light pulses, and a battery that can be recharged time and again.

The sinus Body recharges your cells!

What does the sinus Body do for me?

sinus Body: a pulsed geomagnetic field you can wear

The 8 hertz rhythm of the sinus Body, identical to that found in nature, restores vitality to help your body defend itself against damage caused by environmental influences such as electrosmog (WiFi, mobile phones, laptops, TVs, electrical equipment, etc.), stress, etc. Your sense of well-being can thus increase significantly.

In contrast to therapeutic magnetic field devices which can only be used for limited periods, there is no risk of overdosing with the sinus Body, since the pulsed frequencies are equal to the natural, pulsed geomagnetic field.

sinus Body bioresonance technology

The sinus Body is programmed and charged by impulses (exposure) from a specially developed bioresonance radiation technique.

Electrosmog regulation

Frequencies that counter interference fields (known as electrosmog or electromagnetic noise) caused by electrical equipment, such as all kinds of transmitters and receivers, are recorded as information by the sinus Body. This works on the principle of bioresonance regulation. This makes the body resilient against electrosmog.

The combination of a pulsed geomagnetic field and the neutralisation of electrosmog makes the principle of bioresonance regulation complete.

Bioresilience

The pulsed magnetic field which the body is naturally familiar to can strengthen your bioresonance, allowing your body better access to its vital potential (bioresilience) and thus automatically better able to handle stress.

Strong bioresonance can lead to physical and mental relaxation. This can result in better sleep (more intense, more restful) as well as an optimal regeneration from everyday environmental stress (environmental toxins, electrosmog) and the impact of stressors. It can also increase cognitive activity (concentration, memory, reaction). In addition, improving your bioresilience creates the opportunity for the body to regenerate itself.

Your biorhythms can once again find their way back to their actual task of promoting and maintaining your vitality and well-being.

Note regarding scientific acceptance

As a manufacturer, we comply with the obligation to make no healing claims with respect to the sinus Body. The statements made and information on the effects of the device and the pulsed magnetic field are derived from source-based scientific studies and user reports. We dissociate ourselves from any healing claims and promises of a cure, as well as from claims of medical effectiveness in the sense of the Therapeutic Products Act (TPA) and the Unfair Competition Act (UCA).
