I-LIKE VITAL PRODUCTS

VITALIZES AND OPTIMIZES!

I-LIKE PRODUCTS OFFER BENEFITS BY COMBINING
UP-TO-DATE RESEARCH FROM THE LATEST SWISS BIORESONANCE TECHNOLOGY WITH
ASIAN REGENERATION PHILOSOPHY.

According to quantum physics, all particles of matter have characteristics of both waves and particles. This means that every substance, as well as each cell and every part of the body, together with all foods, cosmetics and so on have a magnetic radiation. Depending on its nature, each substance has a very specific, typical wavelength or frequency with entirely individualized characteristics. The basis for optimizing and their potential increase lies in the scalar wave technology, which has been well-known since 2002.

i-like metaphysics has taken on the task to help people help themselves. For this purpose, i-like uses not only the latest technologies and research, but also takes benefits from the latest Swiss bio-resonance technology combined with traditional knowledge of the Asian regeneration philosophy. Because simply said, humans function via magnetic fields (oscillations), which can be activated and harmonized using the innovative products from i-like.

Use

Stick Active-Bioresonance Bamboo-Vitalplasters onto your washed feet each night for - 30 nights. After sleeping, remove the patches. They are usually soaked and brown-coloured. In addition to the main application in the middle of the sole of the foot, there are almost countless other points on feet, legs as well as on the whole body, which can be activated with the active-Bioresonance Bamboo-Vitalplasters. The possibilities are further explained in the technical literature, as well as via the personal advice of our consultants.

The Acupuncture Atlas

Vitalplaster have been used in Europe for almost two decades. From the time of their creation through to the present day, manufacturers have significantly increased their quality and efficiency. Since 2000, the research into Vitalplasters by the European i-like team is probably leading the pack. Along with the i-like bioresonance technology from Switzerland, developed for over 20 years, they have now succeeded in considerably increasing the effectiveness of the newest generation of Vitalplasters. The Vitalplasters contain silica concentrate from bamboo (77% silica content) which is supercharged via unique technology.

After several energy recharges, from the former „Bamboo-Vitalplasters“ have become „Active-Bioresonance Bamboo-Vitalplasters“. The efficiency, which can be calculated through energy and bioresonance measurements, can be said to have increased by a factor of around three, in comparison to the previous Vitalplasters. Reflexology zones on the soles of the feet are optimally revitalized by the new technology, along with many other places on the body (acupuncture points). It is possible to increase the revitalization still further with the new Active-Bioresonance Bamboo-Vitalplasters if you activate the plasters additionally in the Bioresonance-Converter for 24 hours or longer.

Balanced formulation
in YIN and YANG

- Pure, organic essential oils
- Particularly valuable for bio-resonance vitalisation
- Master formula of the Asian regeneration philosophy
- Available as an oil (5 ml) or spray (50 ml)

For the VitalOil, pure organic oils from Europe, collected according to the Yin and Yang principle, provide (in combination with the latest Swiss Bioresonance technology) pure Qi.

Essential oils from seeds, roots, leaves, bark and flowers of various plants were for centuries part of the ancient Chinese herbalism. The formula for the VitalOil comes from a collection of old, highly respected master formulations from the Asian regenerative philosophy.

By treating VitalOil with bioresonance it becomes the purest form of Qi and, via inhaled air (thanks to the fragrance), the Lung Qi is helped to flow. In the cycle, the Lungs pertain to the Metal element, which directly influences the Large Intestine and the skin.

VitalOil simply needs to be experienced. Add a drop in the palm, rub in firmly to warm it and then slowly inhale and enjoy. The oil is also ideal in fragrance lamps. A personal consultation will show you many more ways to use this product.

CurSun+

Cell force from nature - inflammation regulation and vitality

CurSun+

Special features of the formula:

Highly concentrated active ingredients

Bioresonance vitalisation

Balanced formulation in YIN and YANG

- With micellised turmeric extract, Resveratrol, Vitamin D₃, K₂ and C as well as many other, valuable active herbal ingredients
- Latest micell technology for optimal bioactivity
- Balanced according to the five-element theory
- Contents: 170g, enough for approx. 34 daily portions

Enriched with many vitamins and valuable ingredients, the CurSun+ is perfect for daily vitality. By optimising with bioresonance and thanks to the micellisation of the high-quality ingredients, such as vitamin D₃, vitamin K₂ and turmeric, the resorption capacity is significantly increased. CurSun+ contains a unique turmeric extract, which contains elements of the turmeric root and not only the well-known curcumin, which belongs to the polyphenols like resveratrol.

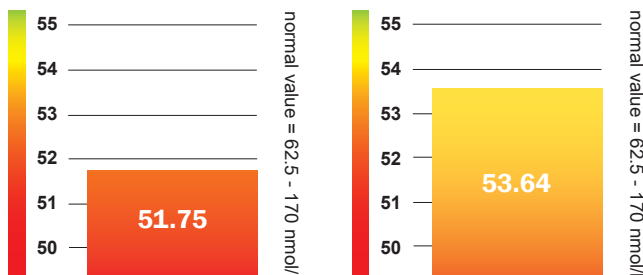

The patented manufacturing method of the extract results in a 10-fold higher bioactivity of the curcumin. The bioactivity refers to the biologically active concentrations in the blood, while the bioavailability only tells how much of a substance enters the blood, but not how long it remains there in an effective form. Turmeric has been used in Asian regeneration philosophy for 5,000 years and belongs to the elements fire and earth. It strengthens our center and gives us positive GuQi (food energy). CurSun+ also contains a high proportion of vitamin D₃. A sufficient supply of vitamin D can thus have a positive effect on the vitality of body and mind.

Application: Place a heaped teaspoon of CurSun+ in a glass and fill it with 60-100ml of water. Stir well and then drink directly.

Test and measurements

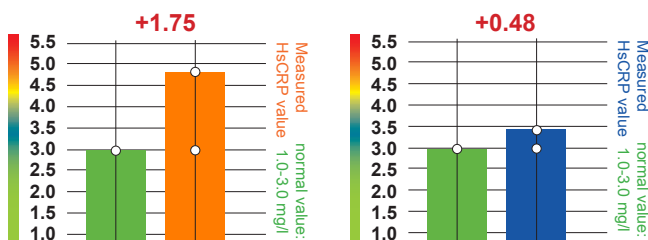

- Vitamin D₃ is considered the sun-hormone and is referred to as a vitamin for historical reasons. Because of its endogenous synthesis and the fact that its action affects other tissues besides the site of synthesis, vitamin D₃ is also known as a prohormone.
- Vitamin D₃ and C contribute to the normal function of the immune system.
- Vitamin D₃ contributes to normal function of muscle function and calcium levels.
- Vitamin D₃ and K₂ contribute to the maintenance of normal bones and normal blood coagulation.
- Vitamin C contributes to the formation of collagen and supports the normal function of the blood vessels, bones, cartilage build-up, gums, skin and teeth.
- Resveratrol, the well-known polyphenol of red wine, is better absorbed by the body together with citric acid and the vitamin C contained therein.

In the summer of 2017 a pilot project carried out by a university institution in the field of health measurement demonstrated the effectiveness of i-like CurSun+ through blood analysis.

Vitamin D blood analysis

It is notable that virtually all participants had a significant vitamin D under-supply. Unfortunately, this shows the typical "people's disease". Blood analysis showed that Vitamin D content increased by 1.89 nmol/l following a two-week dose of the CurSun+ powder! This increase is significant and health-promoting.

At the beginning 1.75 mg/l too high inflammation values.

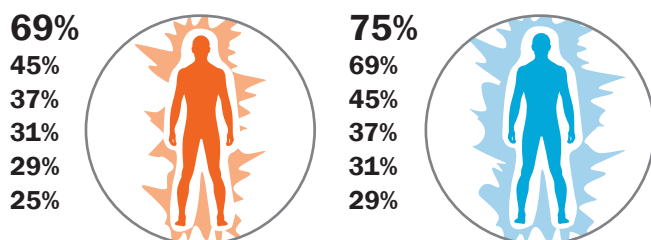

After two weeks of CurSun+ ingestion only 0.48 mg/l. A reduction of 1.27 mg/l.

Silent inflammation

The C-reactive protein indicates silent inflammation. A normal value is 1.0-3.0 mg/l. Anything exceeding 3.1 suggests a condition that should be treated. The group with significantly higher HsCRP values initially showed an average value of 4.75 mg/l and after two weeks an average value of 3.48 mg/l. In all subjects the CRP values decreased significantly after 2 weeks.

Resilience

(Mental resistance, health). The value of the measured resilience had risen by slightly more than 5% in two weeks. The measurement of the resilience over the whole group showed a clear improvement of the score (measured value) by 7.5 points, respectively 5.53%.

Here is a measurement with high-frequency high-voltage photographed. Left before ingestion, right 15 min. after taking CurSun+.

General health condition

The results on the psycho-emotional front showed a clear improvement of the general health condition after two weeks. The positive change was measured at 7,491%.

Summary: The influence of the i-like CurSun+ on resilience was clearly demonstrated. All statements made in accordance with the health claims have been proven. The effect of the individually tested ingredients has therefore been demonstrated.

ProBodyTea

For a natural acid-base balance

ProBodyTea

Special features of the formula:

Bioresonance
Activation

For a natural
acid-base balance

Balanced formulation
in YIN and YANG

- Thanks to decoction (concentrate) and bioresonance charging, the ingredients are particularly valuable
- Balanced according to the five-element in Yin Yang
- Optimises body's system producing base
- Available in: 40 g can or 60 g refill

The ProBodyTea is a tea extract powder, which is balanced according to the teaching "nutrition in accordance with the five elements". By optimising with bioresonance, the tea becomes a harmonious, savoury drink for everyday life. The acid-base-regulating function is given to the ProBodyTea by the antioxidant effect of various herbs such as bamboo, green tea, rooibos, thyme etc. The tea helps in restoring an acid-base balance in which the body's systems are optimised by producing base.

The natural equilibrium in the acid-base balance of the blood is at a pH of 7.36 to 7.44. However, there are a large number of both endogenous (internal) and exogenous (external) factors that can interfere with this equilibrium. Fortunately, the natural regulatory systems normally restore the natural - slightly alkaline - condition. The eating habits of our modern times with many fats, animal proteins and not enough fruits and vegetables together with stress and lack of exercise often lead to an acid excess, which the body systems cannot eliminate on their own. To compensate, teeth and bones - the mineral storage of the body - are attacked in order to gain bases. This can lead to tooth decay and osteoporosis.

The ProBodyTea by i+like helps to restore a balanced base balance by optimising the body's system producing base.

Enjoy daily energy and vitality courtesy of i-like. An enjoyable twice daily energy burst which, together with many vital substances, also provides internal bioresonant efficacy.

This supplier of bioresonant energy provides many nutrients (vitamins, minerals, proteins, dietary fibres) and has a pure alkalising effect. It is naturally sweetened with stevia. Thanks to the bioresonant programming, the drink offers the highest level of efficacy without disturbing side effects. The absorption capacity of the nutrients it delivers is considerably higher than that of conventional food supplements.

The Bioresonance ProMetaVit Drink is a low-energy food supplement, with fewer than 3kcal per 100ml. L-carnitine (250mg / port.) is used to transport the fatty acids to your mitochondria, enabling their optimal burning (energy release), offering more vitality and a boost in energy. The drink contains electrolytes to help build up your mineral deposits. Minerals, trace elements and 10 vitamins ensure the construction of nutrient deposits. Because of this, it can also be used as a highly effective sports drink.

Daily energy and vitality

The vital substances of ProMetaVit

ProMetaVit

It contains catechins from green tea extract and decaffeinated coffee extract (90mg / port.), these increase mitochondrial metabolism, i.e. cellular metabolism, and thus serve as an immediate source of vital substances.

Additionally, peptides (protein building blocks) are made available to the body as a result of the bioresonance.

We recommend drinking this metabolism friendly drink as a dietary supplement twice daily. Dissolve 1 spoonful (9g) in 400-600 ml water, 2 portions daily. Also suitable as a tea with hot water, and good, for example as a substitute for coffee after dinner.

The tasty drink contains soluble dietary fibre (2g / port.) from the finest inulin carrier - acacia. Acacia is referred to by experts as „intestinal gold“ because, despite its very high activity, this intestinal nutrient is known to have scarcely any side effects (which often typically include bloating). Because of this, the gluten-free drink is ideally suited as an intestinal nutrient and supports intestinal regulation well.

With the use of isomaltulose in combination with stevia (strengthening for the middle of the gastro-intestinal tract), we have produced a beverage with a very low glycemic index (low GI). The entire drink is purely alkalising (ca. pH7.2 - which other „energy drink“ can say that?) and balanced in relation to Yin and Yang and teachings of the Five Elements.

By offering a full range of secondary plant ingredients (polyphenols), delivered by the bamboo extract in the drink, your absorption of the ingredients is better than ever before.

Surrounding the bowl are various fresh ingredients: a whole yellow onion, a green leek, a white radish, a whole carrot, and several sliced carrot rounds. Scattered around are small green olives, black peppercorns, and a small sprig of parsley.

What is the secret of the Five Elements cuisine? It is the balance between Yin and Yang, and the Five Elements cuisine is completed primarily by the five tastes (sweet, sour, bitter, salty and spicy). If all five flavours and the basic colours are mixed so that the formulation is balanced according to the thermal principle of yin-yang, then we are speaking of balanced nutrition according to the five elements.

Cooking according to the five elements is, however, difficult. All the ingredients have to be separated according to the elements, taste, heat, cold and so on. Then they needed to be added in the correct order while cooking. Ideally, the end result is then balanced - thermally, by colour and by taste. This fine art of the Asian regeneration philosophy is applied in the i-like alkaline bouillon.

i-like food products are produced on exactly this basis. The wonderful bouillon is too. Enjoy the i-like alkaline bouillon as a hot drink, as a soup, as seasoning or in other uses while cooking. You will enjoy well-balanced nutrition full of good energy and cooked with passion.

Halite Crystal Salt

Pure untreated halite aurochs crystal salt

Halite Crystal Salt

Special features of the formula:

200 million years matured

Hand removal from up to 750 m depth

Bioresonance Activation

- Crystal salt of the highest quality
- With reference minerals
- Unmodified, unrefined and ground
- The purest form of salt
- Free from preservatives and dyes
- Contents: 600 g

The Halit salt is the highest quality that a salt can have. In part, where not shattered internally through collection, it is almost glassy without any color. Think about a diamond, the noblest and most precious form of a gemstone. The halite is the highest quality grade for salt. There are very few known sources.

The minerals it contains and its unburdened origin give it its high-quality. The addition of any release agents or other additives is deliberately avoided. We would therefore ask you to note that crystal salt can clump despite dry storage. This does not represent a reduction in quality, but rather demonstrates the natural purity.

Due to bioresonance oscillation on the minerals, the resorption capacity (absorption) can be significantly optimised. Potential negative frequencies (degradation, transport, processing, storage) can be compensated for.

The alpine crystal salt is distinguished by its superb flavouring power. Halite crystal salt is used as normal salt for all meals. The salt is much more powerful / spicier. The salt can also be drunk daily as a brine.
